BOYS' CORN CLUBS --BOYS' PIG CLUBS

To Be Organized All Over
Ohio County.

NICE PREMIUMS FOR WINNERS

In the Contest For the Best Products Along Agricultural Lines.

WILL RECEIVE EXPERT HELP

To the Parents and Boys of Ohio County:—There will be a "Boys' Corn Club" and "Boys' Pig Club" organized in this county for the year 1916 and I am asking for the co-operation of the parents and boys in this great work for the education of the boys of this county along agricultural lines.

I want to ask the parents to encourage the boys between 10 and 18 years of age to take an acre of corn and work it to the best of their ability, with the assistance they will get in instructions from the Government, and compete with their neighbor boys in raising the largest yield and the best corn for the least cost, for which we expect to have some premiums for the different winners in this contest.

In the Pig Club we want the boys of same age to take a pig from two to four months old the first day of May, 1916, and see which of them can make the best and largest pig at least cost. For this we expect also to have some nice premiums for the winners. Boys can go in either one or both of these clubs. We hope you will go in both, as you will have your corn to feed to your pigs another year.

You will be expected to keep an accurate account of all that you do to your corn and pig, both in work and money paid out during the year, and turn it in at the end to be gone over. You will receive full instructions after your name has been enrolled and I will gladly give you any assistance I can. I hope you will go in to stick through to the end and win, not only for the premium, but for the knowledge and real value you will get from it.

We want boys in these clubs who are expecting to be something in the world, to make men of themselves; boys who, when they have once put their hands to the plow, will not turn back.

In order to get up these clubs of boys all over the county, I have got to know who would like to go into them and I appeal to you through these columns, so if you would like to go in one or both of these clubs, please send me your name and address, also age, as soon as possible, as the club will be made up by February 1, 1916. Get as many of your neighbor boys as you can to join in with you in these contests and then next fall let's have a great rally day of corn and pig club boys, and let our people see what Ohio county boys can do.

I take this means of getting in touch with you, as the papers will reach some I may not be able to see, and they have very generously offered me their columns for anything to aid agriculture in this county. Let us all put our shoulder to the wheel and help the boys in a noble work.

DR. O. B. MARTIN PASSES AWAY AT GREENVILLE

All Muhlenberg county was shocked Wednesday morning by the sudden death of Dr. Charles Beverly Martin, of Greenville, one of the best known young professional men in this section of the State. Death resulted from congestion, and was entirely unexpected. Dr. Martin had just returned from Louisville and walked home on the Tuesday midnight train. His wife was awakened by something early Wednesday morning and found him unconscious. He never rallied, and died at 10 o'clock.

Dr. Martin came to Greenville a few years ago from Paducah, and practiced medicine. He was a quiet, unassuming man. His sons were in the military service and he was much respected by the people, and was making rapid progress in his profession. Only a few weeks ago he became a member of the firm of Moore, Martin & Wilson. Six weeks ago he married Miss Mary Taylor, daughter of C. W. Taylor. His bride is prostrated by the sudden end of their happy married life. The deceased was only 35 years of age and just entering on his career.

In addition to his wife, Dr. Martin is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Martin, of Paducah, a brother, Herbert Martin, of California, and two sisters, Mrs. Crawford Johnson and Miss Marjorie Martin, of Greenville.

Dr. Martin was born in Texas and removed to Paducah in 1899. He was graduated from the Louisville Medical College. He first began the practice of medicine in Caldwell county, but removed to Greenville later on. Arthur Y. Martin, the well known Paducah attorney, is a cousin of the deceased. ONE OF HOCH'S WIDOWS DIES OF STARVATION

Chicago, Dec. 4.—One of the 32 widows of Johann Hoch died of starvation to-day, and with her death is brought back a thrill of the long hunt, the return to Chicago, the trial, the conviction and hanging of Hoch, the arch bigamist and slayer of women.

She was Mrs. Mary Hoch Wernke, and she died in the county hospital, whence she had been taken after she had been found in her home, 658 Rees street, near death from pneumonia and on the point of collapse from starvation.

An attempt was made to restore her with light food, but lack of nourishment for many days had rendered her body unfit to receive it, and she had not sufficient strength to make a fight for life.

U. S. RECEIPTS SHOW A GAIN OF $12,000,000

Washington, Dec. 4.—Ordinary receipts of the United States treasury in November were about $12,000,000 more than in the same month last year, while the increase in ordinary disbursements for the same period was approximately $3,000,000. Most of the increase in receipts was in internal revenue, which totaled $34,466,700, or more than $10,000,000 above November 1914. Customs receipts were $17,681,218, an increase of about $750,000. The total of ordinary receipts were $56,000,000. Ordinary disbursements totaled $63,113,000 compared with $56,840,000 last year.

A BIG BUSINESS IN FALSE CLAIMS

Circuit Clerk Carter County Gets In Bad.

SECURED $8,363 FROM STATE

Witness Fees Assigned Olive Hill Banker, Who Received Warrants.

A TOTAL OF 490 DISCOVERED

The Frankfort State Journal says: "The charge is true," said Circuit Clerk J. E. McGlone, of Carter county, who arrived here last night in company with Sheriff Jas. L. Potts, and G. W. Castle, of the State Inspector and Examiner's force, to answer to a charge of securing from the State warrants aggregating $8,363 on fraudulent claims for witness fees in Commonwealth cases. He said he would make bond to-day before County Judge Heatt and he stayed last night at a hotel in custody of the Sheriff.

McGlone was arrested at Grayson yesterday morning on warrants sworn out before County Judge Heatt by G. W. Castle.

Claims for witness fees in Commonwealth cases for the February, May and October terms of the Carter Circuit Court aggregated over $12,000, and the amounts excited suspicion. The Auditor's office reported the situation to State Inspector and Examiner Sherman Goodpaster, who set on foot an investigation, with the result that charges of making out fraudulent claims were made against the clerk.

Mr. Goodpaster said his report to Governor McCreary will show fraudulent claims for witness fees for the three terms, amounting to $12,075. Warrants were issued and the claims paid for the February and May terms, and among these the Inspector and Examiner found claims, totaling $8,363, which he said are bogus, while, out of $4,242.92, the amount of claims presented to the Auditor's office for the October term, but not allowed, $3,700 were bogus.

Mr. Goodpaster said claims were made out for witnesses who so far as he could learn do not exist, and in cases not on the docket. Milcose allowed these alleged witnesses also amount to a huge sum, as they were allowed 8 cents a mile from Christian, Todd, Logan, Simpson, Larue, Hart, Trimble, Kenton, Pike, Green, Bath, Casey and Warren counties. The warrants were issued to A. J. Stampfer, of Olive Hill, a banker and merchant, to whom the claims had been assigned.

Mr. McGlone, who is finishing out his second term as Circuit Clerk, showed no hesitancy in acknowledging the facts against him. He said: "The charges are true. All I want is a chance to make it right and pay back all that is due the State. I don't know exactly how much it is," but he said no fraudulent claims were made before the February, 1915, term of court.

"I will explain to the authorities what caused me to do it; but I do not feel like making the explanation public."

He continued: "Mr. Stampfer knew nothing about it. The names of the parties were endorsed across the papers by me and they passed through his hands at my request. He secured the warrants and endorsed them to the purchasers, but did not receive any of the money."

The affidavits, accompanying the six warrants sworn out by Mr. Castle, allege that fraudulent claims for witness fees were made out by McGlone in writing in the name of L. W. Belcher for $26 in the case of Abe Wallace; of Joseph H. Riffe for $37.44 in the case of Perry Scott; of Thomas Butler for $33.84 in the case of James Skiens; of R. H. Clevenger for $24.20 in the case of L. A. King; of John A. Fields for $61.60 in the case of Martin McKee; and of Preston Burdett for $22.32 in the case of Johnson Law.

Mr. Castle, who made the investigation, said there were 490 such claims involved, aggregating $8,363, for which the State has issued warrants, and $9,700, for which a warrant was not issued. In some instances he found judgments entered in the name of the forams, with a bench warrant, returned and bearing the names of witnesses; but the order book and docket of the court and the Commonwealth's Attorney's docket fail to show the cases where they are bogus.

THE MACCABEES ELECT OFFICERS—SUPPER SOON

The local Knights of The Maccabees had a most felicitous and enjoyable meeting last Thursday night. The occasion comprised the semi-annual election of officers, which resulted as follows: Past Commander, R. R. Riley; Commander, A. D. Kirk; Lieut. Commander, Heber Matthews; Record Keeper, E. G. Schroeter; Chaplain, I. Y. Sanderfur; Sergeant, Harry May; Master at Arms, Henry Hall; First Master Guards, Forrest Hudson; Second Master Guards, Omar Wallace; Sentinel, E. Y. Park; Picket, R. R. Riley; Trustee, W. B. Ellis.

It was voted to have a supper for the benefit of the Sir Knights, which will occur on Thursday night, December 16. Sir Knights Joe Miller, A. C. Yeiser and Will Riley were put in charge of the arrangements.

In connection with the history of the Maccabees and the basis of the order on Bible events, it is interesting to know that the festival of Hanukkah, or the feast of dedication, is being generally celebrated by the Jewish people of the large cities. It began Thursday and continues eight days. The Feast of Hanukkah was established to celebrate the victories of the Maccabees over the Syrians, whose king, Antiochus Epiphanes had determined to unify all the people of his kingdom and to compel all to adopt a common religion.

CAPT. BOY-ED AND VON PAPEN HELD

As Undesirable Citizens
By Uncle Sam.

BOTH GET "WALKING PAPERS"

Mass Of Circumstantial Evidence Has Been Gathered Against the Envoys.

WILSON APPROVES DISMISSAL

Washington, Dec. 4.—The immediate withdrawal of Capt. Karl Boy-ed and Capt. Franz von Papen, respectively naval and military attaches of the German embassy, has been requested by the State department.

In making the formal announcement of this action Secretary Lansing said the attaches had rendered themselves persona non grata to the United States Government, by improper activities in connection with naval and military matters.

The Secretary acted with full approval of President Wilson, who is understood to have determined that the United States shall be rid of foreign officials who make themselves obnoxious by activity harmful to the nation's best interests.

The State department made its request three days ago, through Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, and the announcement of the fact was withheld as a matter of courtesy to Germany and to prevent the charge being made that the jury trying the warship supply conspirators of the Hamburg-American line in New York had in any way been influenced in reaching a verdict. No reply has been received, but none is necessary. It is taken for granted the ambassador will order the attaches away as soon as he has exchanged communications with Berlin.

Complaints against Von Papen and Boy-ed are accumulative, dating back to the early days of the European war. The case is peculiar, not being capable of legal proof, consists of accumulation of suspicions, circumstances and conditions which connected them with attempts to violate the United States neutrality laws.

Secretary Lansing is understood to have given consideration to the attempts to supply the German warships with coal, provisions and munition and although no absolute proof of complicity of either of the men in the passport frauds was reached by the State department, a mass of testimony accumulated to place them under the gravest suspicion.

Von Papen's principal offenses consisted in sending a report to the German war office by Archibald and the interest he is said to have had in fomenting strikes in munition factories. It was Von Papen, who in a letter taken from Archibald when the British authorities searched him, made reference to "these idiotic Yankees."

Capt. Boy-ed's activities in the United States since the war began have been the subject of close attention by the State department and the department of justice. Several times it had been broadly hinted that the American Government might tolerate Germany that the operations of her naval attaches were objectionable, with the inevitable suggestion that his connection with the embassy should be terminated. Each time, however, the threatened action came to nothing. While the State department consistently refused to discuss the captain's case, the German embassy intimated that it had reason to believe he had done nothing for which he should be censured.

Capt. Boy-ed's first activities which attracted the attention of the Government were in connection with the misuse of American passports to Germany, seeking to slip through the allied lines to join their armies. Some of the men in connection with whose cases the captain's name was mentioned are now serving terms in Federal penitentiaries.

Virgil Ranney Killed.

Virgil Ranney, of Logansport, Ky., hit his head up in his horse lot last Monday afternoon to do some hauling. The team became frightened and made a sudden lunge, throwing Mr. Ranney out of the wagon and breaking his neck. His death was instantaneous. His remains were buried at what is known as the Wilson burying grounds yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Ranney, who was well known by many in Hartford, having lived here several years ago, was about 40 years old. He leaves a wife and four small children.

LIQUOR WILL BE BARRED AT EXECUTIVE MANSION

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 5.—An authorized announcement on behalf of Governor-elect A. O. Stanley was made from the pulpit of the Warren Memorial Church to-day that during his four years tenure of office he will not permit a drop of intoxicating liquor nor will he himself drink a drop of liquor during that time.

The announcement was made by Dr. Aquilla Webb, pastor of the church, to a large audience that had gathered to attend a peace meeting of which Governor Stanley is honorary President. Mr. Stanley was not present.

Dr. Webb, representing Governor Stanley, said:

"I have an important announcement to make of interest to all the people of Kentucky.

"Governor-elect Stanley has asked me to make public for him that while he is Governor of Kentucky not one drop of liquor shall be admitted to the Executive Mansion nor served at any dinner given by him, and that he himself will be a total abstainer during his term as Governor."

Dr. Webb added: "The people of Kentucky have reason to congratulate themselves." The audience greeted the announcement with applause.

DEATH OF MR. FRANK MAY AT HOME IN HARTFORD

Death has again invaded a home in Hartford and taken from its midst the husband and father, Mr. Frank May, who passed away last Saturday evening at 3:45 o'clock. Mr. May had been in bad health for a year or two, but his fatal illness was of only two or three days duration. His particular ailment was chronic interstical nephritis, due to chronic lead poisoning, as he was a painter by trade. He was a quiet, inoffensive man who went through life attending strictly to his own affairs, and was highly respected.

Mr. May was born at Jacksonville, Ill., and was 59 years old at the time of his death. He leaves a wife and two children, Fred and Phillip, also two brothers, one living at Hopkinsville, Ky., and the other at Muskogee, Ok. The family have resided in Hartford a number of years.

Funeral services were held at the family residence Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment was at Oakwood. The deceased was a member of the Baptist church and the local pastor, Rev. Creel, conducted the funeral services in a touching manner. There were six Maccabees pall bearers, in respect to the older son, Fred, who is a member of the order. They were W. B. Ellis, Eschill Park, R. T. Collins, J. P. Casablow, L. C. Acton and Heber Matthews.

There was a large crowd in attendance at the funeral and burial.

GREGORY PROPERTY IS SOLD AT SMALL PRICE

The property of Eli E. Gregory, assigned to Cam Howard for the benefit of the creditors of the Central City Deposit Bank, was sold at public auction last Monday afternoon at the court house door in Greenville. Only a little over $6,000 was realized out of the sales, says the Central City Argus.

The Gregory residence, which cost $6,700 to erect on a lot for which $1,800 was paid 10 years ago, sold for $3,150. Three houses and lots on the I. & N. railroad sold for $900, or $300 each. The laundry building, a seventy-five foot concrete structure on a lot which cost $900 sold for $700. The Archs building, on another $900 lot, sold for $490. A fifty-three foot lot adjoining the laundry, worth $1,600, sold for $300. A lot at the corner of Eighth and Withrow streets, with a frontage of 348 feet and a depth of 166 feet, occupying practically half a block, brought $100. And at that the sales were not for cash, but on six and twelve months time.

MANY KILL SELVES TO ESCAPE

London, Nov. 30.—Viscount Bryce to-night made public details of further Armenian massacres, which, in a letter accompanying them, he says, "surpass in horror, if that were possible, what has been published already."

"I feel," his letter continues, "that such crimes ought to be exposed to the utmost, and that the charity of other nations will more than ever be drawn to the unhappy refugees when it is known what their friends and fellow countrymen have suffered."

Viscount Bryce says the details confirm and amplify the ghastly history of deportations by which Armenians in Northern and Eastern Anatolia were driven to a death of fiendish cruelty.

The first part of the evidence, he says, was received by the Committee of Inquiry in the United States and the second part comes from an Armenian at Tiflis, who received it from refugees who escaped from regions where the events happened.

"The sufferings of the peasants and the mountaineers in the regions of Van, Mush and Sanun," Viscount Bryce says, "seem to have been even more terrible than were those of the peaceful town folk described in Part I of the report. Every successive piece of evidence increases the horror of the story and confirms the dreadful certainty of its truth."

"These atrocities were not produced by imagination. Many of them are vouched for by several co-existent testimonies. They all are in keeping, and the evidence is most complete, and some of it most terrible. At this present phase of events the civilized world is powerless to intervene, but we must bear these unspeakable crimes in constant memory against the day of reckoning."

After giving the parts of the evidence received from the United States, Viscount Bryce says that the following extracts were taken from his correspondent at Tiflis:

"Toward the end of May Djedvet Bey, Military Governor, was expelled from Van. Djedvet fled southward and entered Sairt, with 8,000 soldiers, whom he called 'Butcher battalions.' He massacred most of the Christians of Sairt, the details of which nothing is known. On the best of authority, however, it is reported that he ordered his soldiers to burn in the public square the Armenian Bishop, Eklise Vartaved, and the Chaldean Bishop, Adal Sher.

"On June 25 the Turks surrounded the town of Bitlis, and cut its communications with neighboring Armenian villages. Then most of the able-bodied men were taken away from their women by domiciliary visits. During the following few days all the men under arrest were shot and buried in deep trenches dug by the victims themselves. The young women and children were distributed among the rabble. The others, the 'useless lot,' were driven to the south, and are believed to have been drowned in the Tigris.

"Any attempts at resistance, however brave, were quelled by the regular troops. Many Armenians, after firing their last cartridge, took poison in order not to fall into the hands of the Turks.

"It is in such a fashion that the Turks disposed of about 15,000 Armenians at Bitlis. At Mush early in July the authorities demanded arms from the Armenians and a large sum in ransom of nobles of the town. The head men of the village were subjected to revolting tortures. Their fingernails and then their toenails were forcibly extracted; teeth were knocked out, and, in some cases, noses were whittled down, the victims thus being killed under shocking, lingering agony.

"The female relatives of victims who came to the rescue were attacked in public before the eyes of their mutilated men. The shrieks and death cries of the victims filled the air, yet they did not move the Turkish beast.

"In the town of Mush itself the Armenians, under the leadership of Gotoyan and others, entrenched themselves in churches and stone-built houses and fought for four days in self-defense, but Turkish artillery, manned by German officers, made short work of all the Armenian positions, and every one of the Armenian leaders, as well as their men, were killed.

"When they were dead and silence reigned over the ruins of the churches and houses the rest of the Moslem rabble descended upon the women and children and drove them out of the town and into large camps, which already had been prepared for the peasant women and children.

"The ghastly scenes which followed may seem to be incredible, yet these reports have been confirmed beyond all doubt. The shortest means employed for disposing of the women and children in the various camps was by burning. Fire was set to the large wooden sheds in Alljan, Mongrukum, Khasjogh and other Armenian villages, and those absolutely helpless women and children were roasted to death.

"Many women went insane and threw away their children. Some women knelt down and prayed amid the flames which were burning their bodies. Others shrieked for help, which came from nowhere, and the executioners, who seemed to be unmoved by this unparalleled savagery, grasped infants by one leg and buried them into the fire, calling out to the burning mothers, 'Here are your lions!'

"Turkish prisoners, who apparently witnessed some of these scenes, were horrified and maddened at remembering the sight. The odor of burning flesh, they say, permeated the air for many days."

WAR NURSE SHOT WHILE IN FAINT

Story Of How Miss Cavell
Met Her Death.

SOLDIERS OF FIRING SQUAD

Demanded the Right To End
Life Of British Nurse
Immediately.

ONLY ONE BULLET DID WORK

The New York World says:

An entirely new and circumstantial story of the execution of Miss Edith Cavell, the British nurse, as a spy by the Germans in Belgium, has reached this city through Frederick Schwed, a wealthy young broker, who, having made a lot of money last spring in war stocks, went abroad to see at first hand what war was really like.

Through persons he knew in Berlin, who had intimate knowledge of the killing of the English woman, Mr. Schwed was told of the details of her death and what Germany at large thought of the killing.

This much may be summarized from Mr. Schwed's experience.

Miss Cavell was killed while lying on the ground in a faint.

All of official Germany deplores her execution—not on moral grounds, but because it was a stupid thing.

Schwed returned to this country on the Holland-American liner Ryndam on Wednesday, a fellow passenger with Brand Whitlock, the American Minister to Belgium. He got to know the Minister well, and when Mr. Whitlock, arriving here, refused to talk for publication, Mr. Schwed followed his example. There are many things of which he is cognizant that he will not discuss until after the Minister has made his report to Washington. But yesterday he told some happenings as he had learned of them from sources with which Mr. Whitlock was not connected.

The most important thing the young broker talked about was the case of Miss Cavell. "A good bit of my time abroad I spent in Berlin," Mr. Schwed said. "I speak German fluently, and I met a great number of influential men, both in and out of the army and the Foreign Office.

"Miss Cavell was executed while I was in Germany, and I heard a great lot of talk about her end. Those who told me were in positions high enough to know all the facts, and this is the story as I got it: "Usually in a firing squad of German soldiers told off to kill a person there are ten men. Two of the rifles are loaded with blank cartridges. But in this case thirty soldiers were assigned to do the killing. Twenty of the rifles were loaded with blank cartridges, the men were told, in order to lessen the individual responsibility.

"When the guards went to Miss Cavell's cell on the morning of her execution they found her in a very weak, almost helpless condition. She hadn't taken anything to eat or drink within twenty-four hours. They led her to the courtyard, where she was to sit upon a chair, but before she reached the chair she fainted and fell upon the paving.

"Now the German soldier, I take it (or at least this is the way the matter was put up to me), is just an ordinary human being, the same as any one else. Those assigned to execute this woman far rather would have been out in the trenches doing some actual fighting, even with bayonets.

"So, when they saw Miss Cavell fall to the ground unconscious, the common soldiers, the privates, surrounded their officers and begged that they be allowed to shoot the woman right away; if they must shoot her at all. The officers were all for allowing her to revive and then placing her in her chair and carrying out the execution in the regular formal manner. But the men said no. This was a little beyond normal human endurance.

"The officers were obliged to capitulate, and tell the men that they could go ahead and fire at Miss Cavell while she lay senseless upon the ground. The routine was carried through hurriedly. The soldiers got their orders—'ready,' 'aim,' 'fire!'

"There was a great volley, but when Miss Cavell's body was examined it was found that it had been penetrated by only one single bullet from the ten loaded rifles. This had gone through the head. All the other shots had missed."

Interrupting Mr. Schwed's story

British sources there came a story, soon after Miss Cavell's death, to the effect that all the privates had 'missed' and that an officer had killed the nurse by firing his revolver at her head. Then there was a semi-official German denial of this, and a semi-official German narration to the effect that the execution had been conducted 'regularly.'

"It wasn't a shot from an officer's revolver that killed Miss 'Cavell,'" continued Mr. Schwed. "It was, as I was told, a rifle ball.

"Now, as to the effect of her death, in Germany it was regarded as a big blunder.

"When a German submarine sank the Lusitania, Germany said that it was a matter of military necessity, and that the Fatherland was justified. But in the Cavell case none of the thinking officials attempts, when they talk frankly, to put any construction upon the execution except that it was a very foolish thing.

"They deplore it, honestly. 'Not upon moral grounds—not because it was a woman, a nurse who had helped hundreds of sufferers, that was put to death. No. But they thought it was a stupid thing from a psychological point of view—that it would make so many enemies for the Fatherland and would inspire to further hatred those who were already Germany's foes."

ANOTHER WOMAN TELLS

How Vinol Made Her Strong

Beaumont, Ohio.—"I wish all nervous, weak, run-down women could have Vinol. I was so run-down, weak and nervous I could not sleep. Everything I ate hurt me, and the medicine I had taken did me no good. I decided to try Vinol, and before long I could eat anything I wanted and could sleep all night. Now I am well and strong, and in better health than I have been for years."

In giving an account of a robbery in Louisville wherein a lady was bound and gagged and relieved of $20, the reporter touches off the news item with the remark "Twice before she has been robbed on her husband's pay day." Evidently the robbers are aware of who carries the purse in that household.

Our old friend A. A. Cross, of the Benton Tribune-Democrat, must think the stuff in this column is worth while, as he reproduces two articles from our last issue—editorially, without credit. Go to it, Bro. Cross. You're welcome. If you think it's worth a job of the scissors.

Mr. McCreary retires from office with the respect and esteem of the vast majority of the people of the State and hearty good wishes for contentment and happiness in the evening of his life. He has had a long and honorable public career and deserves the plaudit, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Since the notorious Chicago case, in which a defective babe was allowed to die because its parents and the attending physician thought it was in too bad a shape, both mentally and physically, to be allowed to live, other similar cases have developed and have been likewise disposed of. Physicians are hobbling up in the city hospitals and sitting in judgment upon human lives in baby form with the utmost sangfroid. Little attention is paid to the numerous instances where poor little mites of defective humanity have developed into worthy and efficient specimens of the race.

In anticipation of electing their candidate for President next year, the Republican leaders are already bragging of what they will do to the tariff. All of which revives the idea that the tariff question should be taken out of politics and handled by a non-partisan commission composed of able and well informed men in their particular business. A tariff law, equal and just to all concerned, rich or poor, millionaire or workingman, should be a matter of national pride instead of party wrangle. All we need a tariff for is to supply revenues to run the Government. "Protection" is all bosh unless it protects all alike. There really should be no political disagreement over the matter.

A brother editor up State writes The Herald to know how we stand on the matter ament the coming Legislature passing a bill amending the Constitution so as to allow the people a vote on State-wide prohibition. The Herald was against the dogmatic State-wide idea which was promulgated in last summer's primary campaign because we believed it was more of a scheme to get votes than a bonafide party matter. Really, the matter should be divorced from politics and voted on as a separate question. Presented in this light, we can see no reason why the people should not be allowed to vote upon it at any time in the future. But it is a big question and deserves serious thought.

BEAVER DAM.

Dec. 6.—We noticed in The Herald some time back a letter from the Rockport correspondent giving a very glowing description of his little city. We were glad to learn of the prosperity of that good old town, but we want to say that we in Beaver Dam have a prosperous city also. We have two as good grain mills as there are in the county, furnishing a market for all the wheat in the county, the largest department store to the county, a bank that does more business than any of our neighbor banks, a high school that will compare favorably with any school in the county and more pretty girls than any town of its size this side of the Rocky Mountains.

Mr. Benoni Stevens, of El Paso, Tex., sold the house and lot where his father formerly lived to Mr. Carl Taylor, of Prentiss.

Mr. George Branton, of Williams Mines, has bought the grocery store owned by Mr. Cleoro Taylor & Company and took possession the first of the month.

Messrs. Wordor Gardner and Bowen Bell, of Glendale, Ky., were in town last week visiting their best girls. From present indications our population will be two less in the near future.

Prof. Dudley Tanner visited students in Russellville last week and came back by Glendale to visit the family of Rev. A. B. Gardner.

Miss Ella Taylor went to Louis-

Mrs. Edgar Vaughn and baby, of Herrin, Ill., are visiting her mother, Mrs. Minerva Taylor.

Mr. Edwin Orr and Miss Rachel Ellen Cooper, of Fordville, are visiting the family of Rev. R. L. Creal this week.

DEPOSITORS SUE FOR THEIR LOSSES IN BANK

Stockholders and Directors of Central City Bank Are Made Defendants.

Greenville, Ky., Dec. 4.—Two suits, which are echoes of the failure of the Central City Deposit Bank last February, have been filed in the office of the clerk of the Muhlenberg Circuit Court.

Mary Jones and other depositors of the defunct bank sue the Central City Deposit Bank and holders of the $40,000 of capital stock for the sums equal to the amounts of stock held by the stockholders. They allege that there are more than 1,000 creditors of the institution and ask that the money so collected be distributed among depositors and creditors of the bank.

Seventy-three depositors sue Eli E. Gregory and directors. They allege that the estate of the institution in liquidation will not realize to the depositors and creditors more than 10 per cent. of their indebtedness; that directors were conversant with the affairs of the bank and could have required Gregory to execute a bond of $10,000 as president and cashier, which it is alleged that they did not do; that by reason of the alleged negligence of the directors in overlooking the operation of the banking institution they have lost large sums of money; that Gregory was permitted to dissipate $120,000 of the assets of the bank.

They ask judgment for 90 per cent. of their deposits against Gregory and the directors who are made defendants. They also sue for $10,000 and other sums in dividends paid by the bank.

The persons sued as directors are J. T. May, B. Miller, Godman S. Dean, S. T. Taylor, Central City Deposit Bank, B. F. Green, Special Deputy Banking Commissioner, is made a party to the proceedings.

Gregory's assigns, Cam Howard, sold here under order of court last Monday pieces of real property which brought over $6,000. Other of his personal property will be disposed of shortly by the assignee, Ernest Anderson, of Owensboro, represents the plaintiffs in the suits just filed by the depositors.

Candidate For Senate Clerk, Mr. G. B. Likens, Assistant Auditor, has announced as a candidate for the position of chief clerk of the Senate.

His opponents are Jesse M. Anderson, of Lawrenceburg, Ky., who has been Assistant Senate Clerk for several sessions, and Wiley Dixie, of Henderson, who served as Chief Clerk of the Senate during the last session of the Kentucky Legislature. One thing is certain—it would be hard to find a man better qualified for the position than our fellow townsman, Mr. Likens, who we hope will land the job.

Will You Read This Twice?

A very important question to-day which every housekeeper must decide for herself is whether she prefers pure, cream of tartar baking powder like Royal or whether she is willing to use baking powder made of inferior substitutes which do not add healthful qualities to the food.

One kind is easily distinguished from the other, since the laws of various States require the ingredients to be printed upon the label. If anyone is in doubt which kind is most healthful, it is worth while to ask the family doctor. Then decide.

And when once a decision is reached let no advertisement or dealer's argument or canvasser's solicitation change the decision. It is not a question of a few cents or of pleasing a salesman. It is a question of health.

If this appeals to you as reasonable and sensible advice, it is worth reading twice. And it is worth remembering.

Mr. Billy Johnson is not so well at present. Had the doctor with him again Sunday.

Misses Edith Taylor and Katie Elliott, of Wysox, spent a few days with relatives and friends here last week.

Miss Margaret Taylor is visiting Mrs. E. V. Bennett, of Central City.

Mr. Silas Taylor died Saturday night, the 29th, at his home near Wysox and was buried Sunday at the family graveyard. He was born Sept. 11, 1841, and was married to Miss Sally Fox, of Christian county, April 15, 1880. He professed religion back in the fifties and joined the Presbyterian church in the Little Bend after he was married. He and his wife joined here at Hopewell. He lived a consistent member till death.

Mr. C. L. Elliott, of Wysox, bought some shingles of C. M. Taylor, of Beaver Dam, a few weeks ago. In one bunch he found a man's name and factory where he worked on a board—Mr. Charles W. Blair, Index, Washington—asking who ever got this shingle to write, so he did.

Mr. Alex Russell went to Beech Creek last Sunday to work in the mines.

Mr. Henry Roll and son-in-law, Mr. J. Brown, of near Paradise, lost a good horse and mule Saturday night. The loft of the stable with corn in it fell through on them, killing one immediately and the other they think will die.

SAN MARINO IS
BABY OF ALLIES

Republic One-Tenth New York City's Area.

POPULATION IS ONLY 11,000

Is the Smallest and Oldest Independent State in the World.

SOME INTERESTING HISTORY

(Crede Harris in the Outlook.)

When the white and skyblue flag of San Marino was unfurled against the Teuton allies it recalled the fable of the gnat and the ox. The impudence of this tiny country, the smallest, even as it is the oldest, independent state in the world, was more amusing than terrifying.

This little republic, less than one-tenth the area of New York City, and with a population of 11,002, rises out of the very midst of Italy, standing on the east central Adriatic slope, ten and a half air-line miles from that smiling sea, across which, when days are clear, may be seen the pink-purple mountains of Dalmatia. For more than sixteen hundred years it has perched up in the clouds, crowning with its grim walls the more grim peaks of Monte Titano; since the dawning of the Fourth century it has remained aloof in dress, customs, money, stamps, weights and measures, indifferent to the whirling world about its feet.

In the year 307 A. D. Marinus, a stonecutter of Arbe, in Dalmatia, fled from the Christian persecutor Diocletian. Following his trade in Italy, he came at last to Rome, and was employed by the lovely Felicitia to cut an inscription upon the sarcophagus of her husband, lately killed in the wars. Daily she went with her ladies to watch him work, and, guarded at first, but soon with great frequency, he preached to them of Christ. Felicitia became an ardent convert, and being a lady of influence, gave him the mountain Titano. There up in the sky he lived his days in the purity of God, calling about him others who had fled the fire and sword, and founding a Christian colony.

There is no documentary evidence for this. There is, however, a parchment written in 885 A. D. from which it is clear that "the presbytery of San Marino" was even then an independent state; and elsewhere it is found that for century after century princes fleeing from some enemy have sought the shelter of the rock crags. To these all, as in Garibaldi's day recently as 1849, its fate was opened.

The Government machinery is not intricate. For some centuries after the death of Marinus supreme authority emanated, as in patriarchal days, from the heads of families, but in the year 1296 this was abolished for a council of sixty, composed of twenty nobles, twenty citizens and twenty rural, elected for life. From this body, more recently known as the Prince and Sovereign Council, is chosen a council of twelve which corresponds in State affairs to our executive cabinet.

The presidents, with title also of regent captain, may come only from the Prince and Sovereign Council. September 15, it meets in Scutiny Hall, a medieval room in the Palazzo Publico, and by lot draws twelve members to be nominators. These in turn, draw twelve names from the nobles, six from the citizens, and rural classes, placing the result in two boxes, which are closely guarded until an hour after sunset.

MRS. SLACK'S LETTER

To Mothers of Delicate Children

Palmira, Pa.—"My little girl had a chronic cough and was so thin you could count her ribs and she had no appetite. Nothing we gave her seemed to help her, until one day Mrs. Neibert asked me to try Vinol, and now she is hungry all the time, her cough is gone, she is stout and has a more healthy color. I wish every mother who has a delicate child would try Vinol."—MRS. ALFRED SLACK.

Johns St. Williams, Manager, Hartford, Conn. Sold in bulk by Beaver when, followed by a long and imposing procession, this august body marches to the cathedral, where the boxes are placed before the altar. Amid a breathless silence now the eldest member arises, draws one name from each, and impressively announces the result. The election is over—the republic knows its president for the ensuing six months.

The judicial department is simple. Here it may be stated that the constitution forbids judges, doctors and captains of police to be citizens of the republic. Therefore a foreign judge, known by the title of Sua Signoria, is employed to take up his residence within the city for three years. This time may be extended. From him emanate decrees in affairs of voluntary jurisdiction; he decides civil cases, conducts inquiries into criminal cases and gives judgments on light offenses; but the final appeals are always decided by the Council of Twelve, assisted, whenever necessary, by some eminent jurist from Italy.

The official doctor likewise is brought from Italy and employed for three years. At all times he is subject to the public need and his rules must be strictly obeyed.

The militia is an enthusiastic body of about 1,000, composed of all capable lay citizens between the ages of 16 and 25, except students. For San Marino lists upon education, and no illiterate may vote. The total number of this force is rarely under arms, but two companies of sixty men each are always in service—the Noble Guard and the Civil Guard. The former of these is the more jaunty, uniformed in blue with orange facings and sash, and hats with white and blue plumes.

The regular army is led by a man, woman and child; and is doubtless the most uniquely paid army in Europe, if not in the world. In it, with a confidence which is beautiful to behold, are vested the safety of the nation, the inviolability of her borders, the peace of her people. It is recruited from the Italian reservists, uniformed in blue and red, and the men have no appearance of being thoroughly trained and physically fit. Its total strength is six—just six able-bodied soldiers!

The same Providence which has saved a country with a standing army of six men from utter annihilation has also preserved its public health. Not a house in all the city has a pipe of any description leading into or out of it, and huge cisterns beneath the public square, filled exclusively by roof drainage, have been the only source of water supply for generations. These, however, are kept free from contamination by a law requiring owners of houses to brush their roofs at stated intervals. "We die, but we do not get sick," a Sammarinese sage told the writer. Every morning and evening the maids and swains gather at these cisterns to fill their water jugs.

London, Dec. 4.—British casualty lists published during November total 1,232 officers and 35,184 non-commissioned officers and men in all fields of war, bringing the total since the beginning of hostilities up to approximately 600,000. Heavy as were the losses in killed, wounded and missing for the present month, they were much lighter than in October, when the names of 3,110 officers and 71,187 non-commissioned officers and men were included in the lists.

FEELS NO NEED OF DIETING NOW

J. W. Dougherty Says He Eats
All He Wants Since He Began Taking Tanlac.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 6.—Among those who have tested the value of Tanlac, the premier preparation, and who are loud in its praise, is J. W. Dougherty, of 2111 West Market street, this city. He is widely known in Louisville. Recently he said:

"For a long time I had been a sufferer from catarrh and stomach trouble. I had no appetite to speak of. Every morning I got up, it seemed to me, feeling worse than I had the day before. I was all choked up, and what sleep I got seemed to do me no good. I tried dieting, but that did not help. My condition got worse instead of better.

"Friends urged me to give Tanlac a trial, and finally I did. It was remarkable how quickly it helped me. My appetite improved. It wasn't a question of dieting any longer—I ate all I wanted and I wanted a lot. I began sleeping soundly. I have gained strength and weight."

Many others suffering from catarrh have found relief in Tanlac just as Mr. Dougherty did. They have made public statements like his in praise of this peerless remedy.

Tanlac is now being sold in Hartford at Ohio Conny Drug Co.'s drug store, by Z. Wilbur Mitchell, Beaver Dam, by L. C. Morton & Son, Centertown.

OVERTHROW OF KAISER
IS URGED BY HALDANE

London, Dec. 1.—Viscount Haldane, former Lord High Chancellor, discussing the possibilities of peace during a meeting in Klug's Hall, declared that peace was more to be desired than any other thing at the present moment.

Nevertheless the speaker predicted that no peace negotiations would be considered by Great Britain or her allies until Emperor William and the German war party had been thrown out of the saddle by the German democracy.

"The allies of a century ago," said Viscount Haldane, "were quite ready to make peace with France, but not with Napoleon. So also to-day, until we can deal with the real German people, whom we know as sane contributors of many good things to the world's civilization, but who have temporarily yielded their place to false leaders, we do not care to talk peace."

Retaliation.
A slinger who recently passed an evening at the house of a lady stayed late. As he rose to go the hostess said:

"Pray, don't go yet, Mr. Baaso; I want you to sing something for me."

"Never mind the neighbors," answered the lady, quickly; "they poisoned our dog yesterday."

Swellings of the flesh caused by inflammation, cold, fractures of the bone, toothache, neuralgia or rheumatism can be relieved by applying Ballard's Snow Liment. It should be well rubbed in over the parts affected. Its great healing and penetrating power cures the pain, reduces swelling and restores nature's conditions. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. ple did or thought or ate or drank, is fairly flooded with artificial foods. It is considered a triumph of science and patriotism to be able to produce an artificial food to take the place of some staple commodity of which there is a shortage due to the war. German newspapers are filled with advertisements of "substitutes" for jam, marmalade, cheese, milk, beer and coffee. The sale of real cream is forbidden, but a resourceful Berlin chemist advertises a substitute for whipped cream which has in it no cream, milk, butter or chemicals, but only pure natural ingredients.—[Leslie's.]

"REDLIGHT" BUSINESS
MUST QUIT LEXINGTON

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 3.—Commissioner of Public Safety Hunt announced that the new anti-vice ordinance, closing the "redlight" district and placing commercialized vice under ban would become operative on and after December 21, and that he has instructed Chief of Police Reagan officially to notify every property owner, resort proprietor and inmate of the district to this effect.

Three weeks, he presumes, will be ample time for all concerned to leave or adjust themselves to new conditions. There are between twenty-five and thirty resorts in the "redlight" district and fully as many outside with approximately 200 inmates affected by the order which Commissioner Hunt and Chief Reagan declare they will rigidly enforce.

WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst."

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides, and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, hollow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

BRAND NEW VERSION OF TEN COMMANDMENTS

Formulated By a Pennsylvania Minister — For Use By Wives.

Falsification of a child's age to the trolley car conductor, gossip and scandal, strong drink and card party prizes, untoward friendliness with men other than the husband and numerous other matters are barred entirely from married women in the "ten commandments" formulated by the Rev. Dr. Clayton Albert Smucker, pastor of the Stephens Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, Harrisburg, Pa.

Dr. Smucker promulgated these "ten commandments" in a sermon on "Perils and Rules of Conduct for Mothers," the first sermon of a series of "one-man debates."

The series of laws, modeled upon the decalogue, is as follows:

- I.—Thou shalt have no man except thy husband.
- II.—Thou shalt place no club, social circle, pleasure organization or missionary society before thy home.
- III.—Thou shalt not waste thy husband's substance on gay raiment and vain show.
- IV.—Thou shalt not let the petty vexations of the household disrupt the family harmony and harass thy tired husband.
- V.—Thou shalt not feed thy family with idle gossip and neighborhood scandal.
- VI.—Thou shalt not fret thyself because thy neighbor's house is greater than thine, neither shalt thou reproach when she smiles condescendingly from her limousine to thee in a trolley car.
- VII.—Thou shalt not serve punch to thy guests nor put up prizes at thy whist parties, lest thy moral advice to thy sons and daughters become a mockery.
- VIII.—Thou shalt not pronounce thyself delighted to see an unwelcome caller, neither shalt thou declare to the conductor that thy thirteen-year-old child is of half fare age, lest thy heart become hollow and thy soul utterly false.
- IX.—Thou shalt not wear stowey dresses over shoddy underwear, nor shine with imitation jewelry, lest children be given to shame and false pretense.
- X.—Thou shalt not allow thy little to gather dust, and thy attendance upon divine worship to be governed by caprice or the state of the weather, lest the altar fires of thy heart go out and thy children become godless. — [Philadelphia North American.]

NO LONGER RESPONSIBLE FOR DANGERS OF THE SEA

The dangers of travel by sea at this time have played havoc with the nerves of timid passengers.

Early one morning recently there was considerable commotion on the decks of a coastwise vessel plying between Savannah and Baltimore when a scantily clad man hurried from his stateroom and dashed toward the upper deck. On the way he ran into the captain of the vessel.

"What's the matter, Captain?" he managed to gasp. "Have we been torpedoed?"

"Calm yourself, my dear sir, and be prepared for the worst," answered the official.

"Oh, don't tell me we're going down!" moaned the other. "Quick, where are the life preservers?"

"They wouldn't be of any service at this stage," explained the Captain.

"Too late?" quavered the despairing passenger.

"Yes," said the Captain very solemnly. "We've done all we can for you. You'll have to look out for yourself from now on. You see, we've just tied up to the dock."

Bear This In Mind.

MEETING IS HELD IN OWENSBORO BY SOCIALISTS

Socialists of Henderson, Livermore, Nortonville, Lewisport and Owensboro held a district convention at the Planters House in Owensboro and formed a district organization. Charles P. Reed, of Owensboro, was unanimously elected State Committeeman of the Second district.

The delegates present were M. Silverman, of Henderson; A. H. Lee and I. Nalley, of Livermore; H. O. Davis, of Nortonville; J. B. Holland and C. S. Greathouse, of Lewisport, and Charles P. Reed, of Owensboro. J. H. Holland was elected chairman of the convention and A. H. Lee secretary.

The main work of the convention was to recommend to the State committee a general movement in district form of organization and later adopt a county form of organization.

J. L. Stark, State secretary of the Socialist party of Kentucky, Louisville, was present, and delivered the principal address of the meeting.

of living members of society. When the son is killed the parent is cut both at the blossom and the root at once. They, too, die, those others, in reality. Thus the loss is multiplied many fold, the economic loss, the spiritual loss. Like the ripples of unseen air waves, the destruction of death is carried far afield, crippling untold numbers, reducing the potentiality of all life. Under the gray skies over those battlefields there must hover many ghosts above the silent dead. For no matter how loud the guns and all the din of modern battles, a ghastly pitiful silence rests on the faces of the dead. They lie there like lumps of earth, crumpled up, or stretched out at length, life snuffed out wantonly in the game that is played for away in headquarters or in the chancelleries of State. — [Knickerbocker Press.]

CANNIBALISM PRACTICED BY TROOPS IN AFRICA

New York, Dec. 4.—Cannibalism has entered the European struggle, not on the continent, but down in the borderland between the Belgian Congo and German West Africa.

The first definite intelligence regarding the horrors of the struggle on the dark continent reached New York aboard the steamship Orduna of the Cunard line.

The Orduna has a new ship surgeon, Dr. Laurent J. C. Flament, who, before joining the steamer, had been a surgeon with the Belgian troops in the Congo and now is on leave of absence to recuperate from his three years' service in the land of horrors.

Although the war between the Belgians in the Congo and the Germans is not on the grand scale of the European conflict, it is a terrible one nevertheless.

"Cannibalism is practiced by the troops of both sides," said Dr. Flament. "It has been denied that such practices are indulged in, but I have seen the native soldiers cooking and eating their enemies. Of course, we were not supposed to see it. We turned our heads, but cannibalism in its worst form is being practiced."

"The Belgian troops are all natives, but are officered by whites. It would be almost hopeless to try to stop the practice, for the natives are losing their respect for the white men. When a white officer falls into the hands of these savages there is nothing in the world to save him."

War Upon Pain!

Pain is a visitor to every home and usually it comes quite unexpectedly. But you are prepared for every emergency if you keep a small bottle of Sloan's Liniment handy. It is the greatest pain killer ever discovered. Simply laid on the skin—no rubbing required—it drives the pain away. It is really wonderful. Mervin H. Solter, Berkeley, Cal., writes: "Last Saturday, after tramping around the Panama Exposition with wet feet, I came home with my neck so stiff that I couldn't turn. I applied Sloan's Liniment freely and went to bed. To my surprise, next morning the stiffness had almost disappeared. Four hours after the second application I was as good as new." March 1915. PATRONAGE WAS LOST ON THE FIELD OF HONOR

John W. Gates, on one of his Southern trips, was stopping at a hotel in Joplin, Mo., where he was attended by a very dignified negro waiter. The noted plunger became much attached to the negro, who was very attentive and could always be depended upon, or at least Gates thought he could.

One day the negro was so attentive that Gates gave him a $5 bill as a tip.

Next morning at breakfast a dapper young and rather yellow negro approached the table. Gates looked him over, then growled:

"Who are you and what are you doing here?"

"Why, boss," replied the stranger, "I'm yoh waiter."

"The devil you are," said Gates.

"My waiter is twice as old and black as you."

"Yes, sah, I knows he was yoh waiter, sah," said the interloper.

"But he done lose you to me in a crap game las' night."

Not An Omission.

Mrs. Benton tasted the savory morsel she had carefully compounded in the chafing dish and looked at her husband somewhat apprehensively. Then she said:

"Somehow it doesn't taste just as Mrs. Mink's did the other night. Yet I thought I remembered the recipe all right. I suppose I must have left something out."

Mr. Benton tasted reflectively.

Mrs. Benton's face brightened visibly. Then her husband continued:

"There's nothing you could leave out," he said, "that would make it taste like this. It's something you've put in!"

It takes a mighty brilliant conversationalist to always think of a good answer and say it before it is too late.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

When you meet a fellow on the street and his face is warped and twisted by an unholy scowl, what do you think?

When a lazy duffer hogs a whole seat on a train and lets a tired woman stand with a baby in her arms, what do you think?

When John Smith whispers into your ear that Tom Jones "is a good one to look out for," but that you must not tell anyone that he (Smith) said so, what do you think?

When one woman tells you that another woman "is the biggest gossip in town and that the gossip's own closet is just jammed with skeletons," what do you think?

When a politician promises you the earth with an iron fence around it and the moon with all its green cheese if you will only vote for him, what do you think?

When a public official forgets all of his promises and loses his good resolutions and becomes as blind as a bat as soon as he is inducted into office, what do you think?

When you hear a young braggart making suggestive remarks about every young girl in town except his own sister, what do you think?

When you see one man trying to undermine the legitimacy of another by making veiled allusions to possible financial disaster, what do you think?

When a man owes you a dollar and crosses the street to avoid meeting you, what do you think?

When a girl leads a man on to declaring himself and then deliberately tosses him over without compunction, what do you think?

When a man trifles with the affections of a good woman and then is not honorable enough to live up to his word, what do you think?

When a duffer borrows a five-spot from you and promises to return it to-morrow, and to-morrow never comes, what do you think?

When a man looks you in the eye and tells you a deliberate lie, and you know that he is lying and that he knows that you know it, what do you think?

And if you should happen to do any of these things, what do you think other people will think?

THE DEPONENT EXPLAINS JUST HOW SALLY DIED

A woman appeared at the office of the claims agent of a Western railroad. "Yo' steam cars is done kill my mule, Sally!" she announced in a decidedly tragic manner.

"Well, madam," replied the agent, "if it was the fault of the company, you will be recompensed, you may be sure. What were the circumstances and what was the mule worth?"

"Sally was the best mule Ah ever seed," said the woman, as she wiped her wet eyes with her bonnet string. "Ah done plowed with dat mule fer gals on nine years, an' thar warn't nothin' the matter with her 'ceptin' she was a little little lame in her right hind leg an' kinder blind in one eye. Ah give $49 and three bed quilts an' two pecks of dried pears for her, an' she was as good as the day Ah got her."

"Where was the mule killed?" the agent asked.

"'Tilt wac at the crossin,' an' yo' fast mail train just knocked her plumb over the fence an' inter a gully!" was the woman's reply.

"And the mule strayed upon the track, I presume?" queried the agent.

"Oh, no!" she declared. "Sally never would 'a' been fool enough to walk in front of no train. My ole man was ridin' her."

Rise To Get Bullets.

When the British were endeavoring to subdue the Maoris they were long the victims of a ruse that enabled the natives to replenish their stock of bullets at the expense of their enemies. The Maoris would build a dummy and expose it from behind a tree near the British lines. Immediately the British would blow away at it. Behind the dummy the Maoris would have constructed an earth bank and from this they would later dig their supply of bullets to send back to the British.

No man is a complete failure who succeeds in making a perfect fool of himself.

WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body.

In perfect health we don't realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is failing, who's to say this is the case? In fact, the nervous system gives the alarm in headache, indigestion, dizziness, sleep, irritability and unless corrected leads straight to a breakdown.

To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; it's rich nutriment gets into the blood and rich blood feeds the tiny nerve-cells which the whole system responds to its refreshment force. It is free from alcohol. Scott & Bowne, New York, N. Y.

ROCKPORT.

Dec. 4.—We have received the news of the death at Evansville, Ind., of Mr. Sam Burgess, on the 2d of December. Mr. Burgess at one time was a citizen of Rockport, and had charge of the Rockport saw mill for several years. He was made a Mason in Rockport Lodge No. 312, and retained his membership here until his death. He was a man of fine talents and made many friends in this vicinity who deeply mourn his loss.

Mrs. Fannie Harper, of Owensboro, arrived here last Tuesday and stopped with Mrs. R. M. Reid.
Miss Joan Sullivan, of Morganfield, Ky., is on a visit to her mother at Holt's Landing, and her sister, Mrs. Judge J. T. Jackson, of Rockport. She will likely spend several weeks here.

The Campbell Produce Co. has pulled up and gone to where more ducks and geese are raised, after buying all the surplus there was in this county. They sure did a rushing business while here.

Mrs. Kate Rhoads and Mrs. Fannie Harper, her sister, started to Dade City, Fla., last Wednesday. They will spend the winter in the Sunny South and return in the spring.

The Earnest Workers of the Presbyterian Church held a Parcel Post sale in the Red Men's hall last Friday evening, serving lunch and many forms of innocent amusement. Mrs. Roy Deeter furnished the music and Miss Elizabeth Kevill entertained the little folks with stories. It was a success from start to finish.

There is much work going on in this vicinity. The civil engineers are surveying and platting the railroad right-of-way, the Cumberland Telephone Co. are renewing their lines and the railroad is cementing the bridge piers. Coal mines are doing only fair work and farmers are looking ahead for better efforts for next year's crops. Merchants are holding their own, and most of the people are busy and contented.

We note that Iruce Sam has fired Roy-ed and Papen and if the Americans of the United States had their way there would be loads of hypoborned Germans either fired or imprisoned. Of course we all know that the German element in the United States as a rule are the best foreign citizens we have, but when he undertakes to put the interests of the German first, under cover of his American citizenship, he becomes not only a nuisance but a positive danger. I honor many Germans whom I know for their staunch loyalty and noble manhood, but when they undertake to use the citizenship in America to help the Emperor of Germany crush all Europe, and then to try all the balance of the world, I think they should be squelched, even at the prospect of the ill will of the Kaiser. I am satisfied that if Germany should win in this war, it would only be a matter of time when she would attack our country. I firmly believe that this war is between Monarchy and Republicanism, that if Germany and Austria win, democracy will be set back hundreds of years. America first, last and all the time! Would that she were always right, but right or wrong America for me.

A house on the outskirts of Rockport burned down last week and the family saved scarcely anything. The property belonged to John Woodburn and he had some insurance on it, but I suppose the colored family had no insurance on their goods and lost all they had.

James H. Ware, Master Commissioner of Bracken county, shot and killed himself, using a single-shot pistol that he had to reload, three times.

We probably wouldn't appreciate what we have if it wasn't for what our neighbors haven't.

BENNETT'S.

Dec. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Deubis Ashley and little daughter, of near Beda, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Daniel Saturday night.

Mr. Walter Burdette, Misses Lillie May Wallace and Mindie Greer, of Fordsville, were the guests of relatives here recently.

Mrs. Luna Maples and Mrs. E. D. Tatum and daughter Arlie were the guests of relatives at Hartford Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Bernice Felix and son, of Rome, Ky., were the guests of Mrs. Frank Black recently.

Mr. Roscoe Carson, of Beda, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carson Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. Eugene Hibbs, who has been ill, is improving.

Federal aid for good roads in the manner adopted in the State-aid law in Kentucky is advocated in a bill which Representative David H. Kincheloe, of Madisonville, will introduce. It provides for appropriations by the Federal Government of a dollar for every dollar appropriated by the State up to $1,000,000 for each State.
